Dear [REDACTED],

The document in question will probably be a Commission Notice – endorsed by the College. We expect the Member States to follow the Commission’s interpretation. However it should be noticed that it is the sole prerogative of the European Court of Justice to render a final and binding opinion on the interpretation of EU law.

Best regards,

Dear [REDACTED],

I am contacting you following the tel. conversation you had with [REDACTED] yesterday. First of all, thank you for sending us the link to the Advisory Group of DG SANTE: in this respect, we were wondering if the stakeholders to be consulted on the ‘guideline document on NBTs’ are the members of the DG SANTE Advisory Group (plenary) or of an ad hoc Working Group. Thank you also for forwarding us the contact of [REDACTED]. We will contact her for registration purposes.

Concerning the ‘guideline document’, we were wondering if you could enlighten us about its legal status: in particular, we were wondering to ‘which extend’ EU Member States are bound by such a document.

Thanking you in advance for your feedback on the above.

Best regards

On behalf of [REDACTED]
